A KICKING POST FOR TAXPAYERS

County Boards of Complaints
For the Discontents.

BACKED BY GOVERNOR-ELECT

Feature of the Measure Revolutionizing the Tax Assessment System That Will Soon Be Launched. Boards to Be Wholly Separate From Assessing Machinery Under County Commissioners.

Columbus, O., Jan. 8.—County boards of complaints constitute a cardinal feature of the bill revolutionizing the tax assessment system which is to be introduced in the legislature with the backing of the Cox administration. Creation of such boards, to be appointed by the officers and to be wholly separate from the assessing machinery under county tax commissioners, who also are to be appointed from Columbus, has been decided upon by the drafters of the bill. They were asked to prepare it by the governor-elect.

Because of the kicking propensities of the average taxpayer, provision for a kicking post is considered sensible, even indispensable, by tax experts. The board of complaints is to be the kicking post. It is proposed to have it appointed by the state board of appraisers and assessors.

James M. Cox of Dayton was officially declared elected governor at joint session of the senate and house. Lieutenant Governor Nichols presided. He read the abstract of the votes cast for governor and other constitutional state officers and declared all of the winners properly elected with the exception of himself. It was Speaker Swain who read the vote cast for lieutenant governor and declared Mr. Nichols to have been elected to that office.

Fully confident that the present general assembly is favorable to all classes of labor, the miners' union will make another attempt to secure the passage of the screen bill, which was defeated two years ago by one vote in the senate.

Speaker Swain and Lieutenants of Governor-elect Cox conferred to pick a chairman for the house liquor traffic committee and then decided, tentatively, to give the place to Smith Welsh of Ottawa county, who had it two years ago. Cox will pass on the selection. Senator Greenlund of Cleveland will head the senate committee.

Governor Harmon sent three messages to the assembly. In his first he pointed out reasons why the proposed United States constitutional amendment for the election of United States senators by popular vote was invalid, on the ground that it had been adopted by a majority vote of congress, whereas the constitutional requirement is a two-thirds vote of each house. In his second message the governor goes on record as opposed to the establishment of a state hospital for crippled children. In his opinion the care of crippled children should be a local matter. In the third special message he dwells upon the importance of the Panama canal in general, and particularly to Chic, in support of his recommendation that proper means be provided for the representation of the state at the Panama exposition by a state building, etc.

Would Wipe Out 50-Year Franchise.
Columbus, O., Jan. 8.—A bill will be introduced in the house early next

MISS HELEN M. GOULD, often called America's "most beloved woman" because of her practical and personal charities, went out walking in Central park, New York, upon the occasion of the first visit to New York of Finley J. Shepard, her fiance, following the announcement of their engagement. The camera caught them. Note Mr. Shepard's happy smile. See Miss Gould's attentive manner. Also notice the odd position of Mr. Shepard's stride. It makes him look as if he had one leg. But Mr. Shepard is a self-made railroad man—he's vice president of the Missouri Pacific—and is well able to stand on both feet. They may be married toward the end of January.

LOST IN BIG GALE ON ROUGH COASTS

OIL TANK STEAMER SINKS

Thirty-one Members of Her Crew of Thirty-five Drown.

Astoria, Ore., Jan. 8.—The oil tank steamer Rosecrans, Captain L. F. Johnson, from Monterey, Cal., for Portland, Ore., ran aground on Peacock Spit while crossing into the Columbia river during a 55-mile gale, and later sank with 31 members of her crew of 35.

The second the Rosecrans' keel hit the head of the spit, the vessel began to list and the huge waves swept over her. She settled rapidly her seams opening under the fearful pounding of the surf. Rescuers on the tugs and on North head saw her funnel go, while she sank until only the tops of her masts were visible. To these two men were clinging, while the breakers reached almost to where they were making a last fight for their lives.

ANOTHER HAIR RAISING CRIME

MURDERED IN BED; ROLL AND GEMS GONE

Druggist Believed Killed By a Salt He Had Befriended.

New York, Jan. 8.—Otto Oelninger, a druggist in Williamsburg, was shot and killed as he lay sleeping in his bedroom over his store. A noise, evidently the pistol shot, awakened William Kolbe, a clerk, who was asleep in an adjoining room. He left his bed to investigate, and was surprised to observe a young man who is known as Thomas Kelly, 22, a seafaring man, whom Oelninger had befriended, walking about fully clothed.

As Kolbe went towards Kelly, he noticed the butt of a revolver in his hand and he was about to seize him when Kelly pointed the weapon at the clerk and tried to shoot him. Kolbe clinched with the man and they struggled into the hall, where Kelly hurled Kolbe down a flight of stairs, fracturing his left leg. Kelly ran down the stairs, leaped over the helpless clerk and reached the street.

Oelninger was a bachelor, 40 years old. The police discovered that Oelninger's gold watch and chain, diamond ring and $50 were missing.

SIX COACHES DITCHED

Nearly Forty Persons Caught in a Big Four Wreck.

Lafayette, Ind., Jan. 8.—One person was killed, three probably fatally injured and 33 slightly hurt when six cars on train No. 15 of the Cleveland Cincinnati, Chicago & St. Louis railway, northbound from Cincinnati to Chicago, jumped the track at Stockwell, near here. The train was running at a high speed when a wheel on the baggage car broke, throwing that car, the smoker, day coach, the diner and two Pullmans into a ditch. Edwin Zunner, Rochester, N. Y., was crushed to death.

PATIENT RETURNS TO THE OLD LIFE

Science Fails to Change Criminal Into An Honest Man.

EDWARD GRIMMEL'S ODD CASE

Turned Thief When In His Youth He Is Struck Over the Head With a Club, and Served Terms in the Ohio and Other Prisons—Improves Steadily After Consenting to Operation, but Finally Lapses.

Buffalo, N. Y., Jan. 8.—Edward Grimmell, the man who was believed to have been cured of his evil ways by an operation upon his skull, is again behind prison bars. He is charged with burglary, and his accusers, three men, declare that he led them in their looting operations. Now scientists are wondering whether the much-talked-of feat of surgery changing a criminal into an honest man has failed, at least in the case of Grimmell.

Grimmell was a notable prisoner. Society took an interest in him. It learned that he had been an exemplary boy in school up to the time he was 14 years old. Then one day he engaged in a schoolboy fight with a companion, and while he was pummeling the lad in the most approved fashion the lad's father appeared and whacked young Grimmell over the head with a fence picket. Grimmell's skull was fractured.

When he came out of the hospital he was a changed boy. He was morose, sullen and a thief. He stole from stores, schools and parents. He forged his father's name to checks. He sold his father's furniture and spent the money.

Grimmell was sent away to school, and among his first acts was to rob his roommate in the Cleveland school where he studied medicine. For this he was sentenced to the Ohio state prison for three years, and when he came out he continued to steal and to forge other persons' names to checks, but now and then living honestly for short periods.

In 1908 he was sentenced for a long term from Buffalo for forgery. He had been often sentenced; he had served time in various jails and prisons; but after the sentence from Buffalo there began to be a change.

Grimmell himself began to study his own case. He sent for Dr. DeWitt G. Wilcox, a physician who attended him as a boy several years after his injury. He told the doctor he was convinced there was something wrong with him that he should have such an inclination to go wrong.

The doctor wanted to know if Grimmell ever met with an accident, and Grimmell related the fence-rail incident. The doctor examined the prisoner's head and found the spot where the skull was fractured. He was convinced that there was a pressure of the skull on the brain, and said an operation might relieve the trouble. Grimmell consented to an

ALL WAITING ON THE POWERS

No Fresh Overtures From Either Allies or Turks.

PEACE PARLEY DEADLOCKED

European Nations Completely at One In Determining That Peace Must Be Maintained, but There Is Nothing to Show How They Propose to Avert Renewal of Hostilities—Situation to Date.

London, Jan. 8.—Neither side to the Turkish-Balkan dispute, so far as known, has taken any further step since the suspension of the sitting Monday. Everybody seems to be waiting on the powers.

It is generally conceded that the powers are completely at one in determining that peace must be maintained, but beyond a rather vague statement from Berlin as to what they propose to do there is nothing to show as to how they propose to maintain peace.

Many of the commentators who, including one who has been referred to frequently, believe that the powers have not yet decided how to go to work. There are reports that they intend to exert pressure on Turkey by informing her that they would regard the resumption of hostilities with "the utmost displeasure." Nothing is said about exerting similar pressure on the allies.

The recently reported willingness of the powers to mediate is now denied, though unofficially, and they are stated to be willing only to "exert influence" towards a settlement, but it is declared that they have been exerting influence throughout the negotiations, and the only result thus far has been a deadlock.

One leading commentator intimates that the suspension instead of the rupture of the negotiations was due to their instigation. If this is accurate, what is described here to the allies as "a most brilliant idea" is the first fruits of the efforts of united Europe.

A Berlin dispatch states that the powers have agreed on immediate joint action to induce Turkey not to resume the war. The ambassadors of the powers at Constantinople will make representations to this effect to the porte and the ambassadorial conference at London will bring pressure on Rechid Pasha and the other Turkish plenipotentiaries to this end.

FACTS WILL BE SEARCHED WITH CARE

London, Jan. 8.—Paul Nash, United States consul general at Budapest, died suddenly at a hotel here. Although it was apparent that death was due to natural causes, an inquest will be necessary as in all cases of sudden death. Mr. Nash was 35 years old. While consul at Venice he married the Baroness Ina Mayneri of Piedmont.

London, Jan. 8.—It is learned here that efforts are being made to induce the United States Steel corporation to purchase the Thames Iron and Steel works, which were closed up just before Christmas, throwing several thousand men out of employment, and which are still in the hands of a receiver. It is understood that the negotiations in the matter have not yet proceeded very far.

At the Age of Ninety "Kelly" Dixon Stands A Staunch Old Oak In the Forest of Men

Hale and Hearty in Sight of the Century Mile Stone on Life's Long Road.

EARLY LIFE WAS REAL ROMANCE

One of the "Forty-niners" Who Crossed the Plains to the Gold Fields of California, Walking at Times a Thousand Miles
Straight Away--Last Lap of Home Journey, Four Hundred Miles, Was Made on Foot.

A sturdy old oak in the depleted forest of Fayette county's very earliest settlers, stands John Kelly Dixon, widely known as one of the country's largest landowners and approaching the century milestone in the quiet of his beautiful old home in the picturesque Rock Bridge neighborhood.

Mr. Dixon is one of those figures who stand out in the community, a landmark giving distinctive character to his locality.

In his ninetieth year, strong and well, he looks back through the intervening years of peaceful farm life to an early career of such thrilling interest, that it might have been a page stolen from a novel of adventure.

One of the "forty niners", those indomitable Fayette countians who went through incredible hardships to reach the gold fields of California, literally taking his "foot in his hand" and walking a thousand miles through rough, wild territory that furnished many hair-breadth escapes, Mr. Dixon in his triumphant old age proclaims the victory of the gospel of work and courage. Far from being weakened by early hardships he has enjoyed unusually good health, and in the last half century has only taken one dose of medicine.

His early life belongs to that period of immigration and opportunity which brought rich reward to the dauntless and untiring pioneer and seems even farther distant than it is from the totally different opportunities of the present.

John Kelly Dixon was the son of Thomas and Margaret Dixon and was born in Bedford county, Va. When only ten years of age he accompanied his parents to this part of Ohio, and even then made a record as a pedestrian, the ten-year-old boy walking 400 miles.

Until he was twenty-five years of age he worked at farming, cutting rails and clearing lands, now tilled fields, but then densely wooded forests. The meager wages for this kind of work were not encouraging—fifty cents a day for cutting rails, three dollars per acre for clearing land. Mr. Dixon boarded himself on wild game and corn bread, and was a dead shot on a wild turkey a hundred yards away.

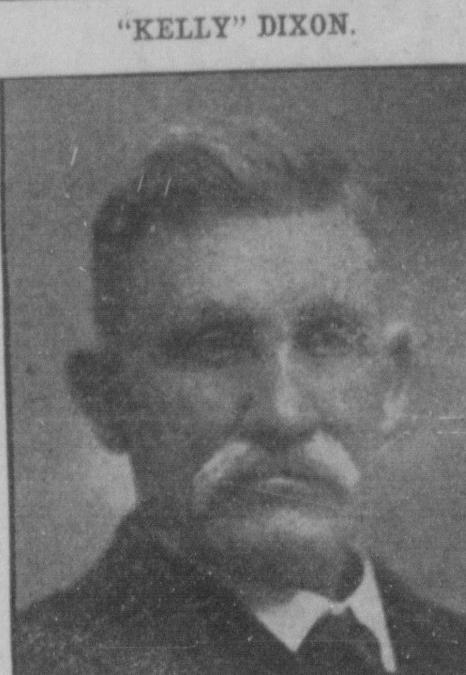

Tiring of the poor return for his labor in 1850, Mr. Dixon was at tracted by the lure of the gold fields and started for the mines of California. With him were Mr. Henry Hoppes, Jacob Sperry and his brother Ellis. They started with a mule team, four miles to one wagon, and went from Washington C. H. direct to Cincinnati. From Cincinnati they went by boat to St. Louis, Mo., and upon landing started on their faithful mules for the land of the golden gate. On their route they crossed three deserts, one ninety miles, the others forty and thirty miles. After they had traveled 600 miles on the plains they came into a region where cholera raged and people were dying every day. Mr. Dixon's brother Ellis took the plague and died with it.

Saddened by the loss of his brother, Mr. Dixon and Mr. Hoppes continued their toilsome journey to California, their first stop in the small village of Georgetown. Here they made big wages digging gold, but after two weeks Mr. Dixon decided to try his luck in other parts of California and telling Mr. Hoppes goodbye, went on alone.

On his journey he met a stranger whose appearance pleased him and the two became partners. They were very fortunate in their diggings and were making money fast when his partner died and he was once more alone.

By rare good luck he fell in with two of his company and they started for the northern mines. This trip was one of the most perilous of Mr. Dixon's entire experience. The little band met several tribes of Indians, suspicious and unfriendly.

For a time things looked pretty bad, but the gold diggers sang and danced and finally won their way into the good will of the Indians and were allowed to go on their way.

Starvation then threatened them. During two weeks of the time they were in northern California they had nothing to live upon but taffy made from sugar and water.

For a while they tried mining in Oregon, but were not very successful, so returned to California. Again Mr. Dixon was left alone, but in a rich field, where he had the biggest returns of his stay in California, making as high as $40 per day.

For two hundred and twenty miles he traveled entirely alone, walking from 50 to 60 miles a day and by great good fortune escaping from Indians, bears, lions and wolves in his path without injury.

During his whole trip he traveled through 13 tribes of Indians, some friendly, but many sullen and dangerous.

After a year's stay in California, Mr. Dixon boarded a boat at San Francisco for Mexico. He was thirty days on the Pacific coast and after he had reached Mexico made his pedestrian record of a thousand miles walking to Vera Cruz. From that city he went by boat across the gulf to New Orleans, La., taking the Mississippi river boat for Cairo.

The hardy prospector's little walk of a thousand miles had only whetted his appetite and from Cairo he walked 400 miles to Cincinnati, finally returning to Washington C. H., January 1st, 1852.

Here he remained with his parents and in 1855 married Armida Brackefield, who died in 1908.

Mr. Dixon has two children, Mrs. Nettie Hoppes and Sheridan Dixon and seven grandchildren, H. K. Rodgers, in Michigan; E. D. Rodgers, Robert W. Rodgers, O. H. Rodgers, Mrs. Chas. Marks, Miss Leola Rodgers, children of Mrs. Hoppes, and little Kelly Dixon, Jr., who recently arrived at the home of Sheridan Dixon.

Annual Meeting At Children's Home

Following their established custom Supt. and Mrs. J. A. Tway, of the Children's home, entertained the trustees and their wives with an elegant turkey dinner at the annual meeting of the Board for re-organization held Tuesday at the Home.

The Board of Trustees was reorganized with Mr. S. W. Cissna, president; Mr. W. H. Sheley, vice-president; Mr. M. L. Dickey, secretary.

The board re-elected Mr. and Mrs. Tway to the positions of superintendent and matron of the Home and Dr. Roy Brown as the Home physician for another year.

The condition of the Children's Home has never been more satisfactory. There is no sickness and everything is in fine shape.

Supt. and Mrs. Tway's administration has been one eminently pleasing to those in touch with the affairs of the Home and the children are devoted to them and as happy as they can be.

Supt. Tway had engaged Miss Faye Jobe, substitute teacher in the Public schools of our city, as the new teacher at the Home and the Board confirmed the engagement.

The dinner, a feast of turkey and everything to go with it, was much enjoyed as a social feature in connection with the business of the day.

Seated with the host and hostess were Mr. and Mrs. S. W. Cissna and daughter, Mrs. Parker Tansey, of Columbus; Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Sheley, Mr. M. L. Dickey, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Perrill, Mrs. Chas. Larrimer, Dr. and Mrs. Roy Brown.

BAILEY QUILTS THE FIGHT.

Senator Bailey, of Texas, has resigned again and this time it seems to be a final resignation.

Just prior to this last resignation, Senator Bailey made a characteristic speech in the Senate and a characteristic Senator Bailey speech means a beautifully worded, splendidly delivered and from the viewpoint held by those of the old-time school of politics, an altogether able speech. His last speech in the senate of the nation measured up to the high standard set by the noted Texan.

For years Senator Bailey has ranked as one of the big men of the nation and when he first became the minority leader in the upper house of Congress, a great future was predicted for him by both friends and foes. His oratory was matchless and his force unquestioned.

But Senator Bailey was one of those senators who became immensely rich during his term by "fortunate business investments" and he began to drift away from the old moorings and become more and more antagonistic to each and every movement designed to increase the power of the people.

He grew out of touch with the mass of his constituents and of late years has always been arrayed with the ultra-conservatives who insist that the later day progress in matters governmental means the destruction of our institutions.

Senator Bailey's popularity at home began to shrink noticeably and his successor was chosen.

Now he bitterly denounces the present political tendency and delivers his arguments against those tendencies, announces that for himself he is ready to enlist under the banners of the mighty dead, Washington and Jefferson, and Madison, refusing to ally himself with the advanced statesmen of the day.

Senator Bailey's logic might be more convincing if he would remain on the firing line and fight it out with those whom he opposes, but like almost all men of that school of politics and with a record such as his, he states his position, flies the white flag of unconditional surrender, and runs away.

There is something wrong—radically wrong—with the position or the record of the public official who bitterly denounces his opponents and quits the fight.

The American people can't stand a quitter—it is taken as proof that there is a weak place somewhere in the armor.

Senator Bailey has prospered in a financial way, but he leaves instead of an imposing and ever enduring monument of splendid public service such as he was capable of leaving, only a heap of dross.

Brilliant as he is, captivating orator that he is, the people are well rid of Senator Bailey as a public servant. He has served his day and with all his qualifications has failed signal- ly to measure up to the great standard.

Boys, Stay on the Farm

President Taft's Advice to Youthful Corn Growers

We are bound to increase the yield per acre of the land in this country in order to keep up with the growing population. The FARMERS ARE BECOMING MORE AND MORE IMPORTANT to us as an element in the community, especially in view of the fact that so many farmers or farmers' sons are leaving the country and GOING TO THE CITY.

If anything I can say will prompt boys to remain in the country and pursue agriculture as a profession, for it has now become a scientific profession, I am glad to say it.

We must have a strong farming community. We must have STRONG, SUCCESSFUL MEN WHO WILL REMAIN IN THE COUNTRY.

Poetry For Today

CONTENTMENT.

It doesn't matter at all to us that somebody else has a hoard of gold,
That somebody else wears costly furs to shield themselves from the winter's cold;
That somebody else drives down the street and by our door in a limousine,
We sit together and laugh and love, and our hearts are light and our lives serene.

For somebody else may rise to fame, and somebody else may higher climb,
And somebody else may win the cheers of the world outside and in good time.
May come to stand at the very front and gain the smiles of his fellow men,
But we shall sit in our humble home and dwell in love and contentment then.

For nobody else has our babies two, and nobody else has the smiles we know,
And nobody else has the joys we keep when the day is done and the lights aglow;
For there is happiness all our own, there dwell innocence, love and mirth,
And it doesn't matter at all to us that somebody else may own the earth.

Hartman Theater

"THE PINK LADY."

"The Pink Lady", Klaw & Erlanger's musical comedy deluxe, will be at the Hartman theater, January 17 and 18, with a Saturday matinee, thus giving Hartman patrons an opportunity of seeing one of the prettiest plays of its kind that has been produced in years.

"The Pink Lady" is a complete effort in all details. It has a score composed by the most successful contributor to the London stage, Ivan Caryll, while the books and lyrics are from the pen of C. M. S. McLellan, author of the "Belle of New York," and Leah Kleschna.

There are a score of delightful musical numbers in the production, among the most beautiful of which may be named "My Beautiful Lady", "The Girl by The Saskatchewan," "I'm Going to Be Married in June," "Gently," "Bring Along the Camera", "The Kiss Waltz," and "I Like It." There will be a matinee of "The Pink Lady" on Saturday.

LOST IN THE FOG

Ocean Liner Hits Bottom While Coaster Runs Ashore.

New York, Jan. 8.—In the murk of the worst fog of the winter, the White Star liner Adriatic, bound for the Mediterranean, slid on the muddy bottom of the channel south of Governor's Island on an ebbing tide, while groping seaward, and stuck there for several hours until, under the impulse of a rising tide and with the help of her engines, she freed herself and proceeded to sea. The effort of the Old Dominion liner Hamilton to disturb the granite foundation of Fort Wadsworth, was not a howling success. The Hamilton, with 47 cabin and 18 steerage passengers, was bound for Norfolk. She came back with a big hole in her bow.

BRIEF REVIEW OF GRAND JURY CASES

Large Number of Bills Returned Shows January Grand Jury Was One of Most Active in Many Years--Initiated Number of New Cases.

The indictments returned by the January grand jury Tuesday evening, show that the jury went outside of the cases committed to them for investigation, and that four or five indictments were returned in cases initiated by the grand jury itself.

One of these is that of a joint indictment returned against Charles Ryan and Henry Stewart, who, on August 26th, are charged with having stolen eight bushels of wheat, valued at $6.84, from Mary H. Rogers.

Thurston and Ted Smith were indicted upon three counts, and the indictments against them will probably be a warning to others who have been in the habit of hunting on farms where trespassing was forbidden.

One indictment was returned against the two men for trespassing upon the lands of Joshua Heironimus, of Jefferson township, after they had been ordered to leave the premises.

On the same day, according to the indictment, they committed larceny by stealing three fowls from Hanna Bland, who lives on the above farm.

And again on the same day Thurston Smith pointed a shot gun at Hanna Bland, and discharged it, the indictment being for pointing and discharging firearms.

In the case of Clark Leahy, who was indicted for assault and battery, the defendant was bound over to the grand jury by Justice Craig for assault and battery committed upon Grace Williams on December 1st.

James Adams, indicted for assault, is the man who ran amuck at Good Hope on Christmas night, and made dire threats and attempted to start a general row. A bill was also returned against him for carrying concealed weapons on the same day the above trouble occurred.

Mont Phillips is the man, who, on October 13th, shot and seriously wounded Josie Hargrave, and the bill against him contained two counts; shooting to kill and shooting to wound. It will be recalled that he shot the Hargrave woman some five or six times, and was placed in the county jail, where he has since remained, while his victim lingered for some time between life and death, and has almost fully recovered from the many wounds.

Roy Lloyd, who was also indicted for shooting to kill and to wound, is the Jeffersonville man who, on Christmas day, shot and seriously wounded his brother, Henry Lloyd, following a drunken row, and while the marshal was in the act of quieting the trouble.

The indictment for playing poker, returned against Isaiah Rhoads and six others, is the result of the arrest of the men following a raid of the rooms over what was then the Rhoads pool room on Court street, and is the first indictment of its kind returned for several years.

Ferrell Castle, against whom a bill was returned for pointing and discharging a firearm intentionally but without malice, is the colored lad who sent a rifle ball crashing into County Recorder Tolen E. Brown's automobile while he and his family were returning to this city from Madison Mills on October 22.

Thief Steals Load of Beef

Some sneak thief broke into the slaughter house of James Anderson some time Monday night, and cut away a large portion of a quarter of beef and carried it off.

Mr. Anderson discovered the loss Tuesday, and had the residence of one man searched, but no trace of the missing beef could be found. At the time the beef was stolen only a few persons knew that the beef was in the house. The dressed carcasses of three steers and a number of hogs in the slaughter house at the time offered a good opportunity for the thief to secure his choice, and he did so by cutting off and carrying away all that he could carry.

POULTRY AND BENCH SHOW IS CALLED OFF

Difficulties to Overcome Prove Too Great, and the Dates for First Show Are Cancelled.

Reid Chosen Floor Leader

There will be no poultry and bench show in this city the latter part of this month, notwithstanding the auspicious start toward such a goal. This announcement has been made by some of the leading officials of the Southern Ohio Poultry and Bench Show Association recently organized in this city.

It was planned to have the show in the Armory Hall, beginning January 23 and continuing four days, but it was found that the hall would not be large enough to accommodate a great many of the entries, and this fact, together with the lack of support given the movement in this city, and the task of securing suitable judges without paying exorbitant prices, proved too much to overcome, and the shows have been called off for the time being at least, and it is hoped that next winter the city will have a mammoth armory building in which the big show can be held.

Letters from poultry and dog raisers all over this part of the state, had been received by those interested in the movement, and it was evident that the show would have been an unusually large one both in the display of poultry and in the bench department.

It was with deep regret that the dates for shows were cancelled, and it means that the city will miss what would otherwise have been a big week, for hundreds of persons would have visited the show each day and would also have done their shopping here.

Roads Soaked Easily Damaged

The rains during the past few days, together with the snow which melted, has thoroughly saturated the public highways, and rendered them liable to great damage by heavy hauling.

What traveling has taken place on the roads in many places has caused them to become very muddy and disagreeable, but the cold weather predicted is expected to save the roads from further damage at the present time.

"It has been very much enjoyed—not alone by myself, but by many of the friends out here. I could throw you many bouquets in its favor, but I will not do that now, at least, for you know I am for you, first, last and all the time."

OLD AGE DEFERRED.

Echo From the Medico-Legal Society.

A few generations back a man at 50 was considered old, gray-bearded, and waiting for death. Note the change today; at a meeting of the Medico-Legal society it was stated that a man of 50 ought to have 40 good years ahead of him and, thus at 90 be in the fullness of maturity.

What if you have seen sixty, or even seventy birthdays—temperate habits, fresh air and exercise, with a simple diet and a sufficient amount of sleep will guard your health.

If perchance, your circulation is poor, if you become run down—weak and no appetite—nothing in the world will tone up those tired back-sliding organs—enrich the blood and create strength so quickly as our delicious cod liver and iron tonic Vinol.

We ask every feeble, discouraged old person in this vicinity to try Vinol on our agreement to return their money if it fails to give satisfaction. Blackmer & Tanquary, Washington C. H., Ohio.

Large Crowd Attends Annual Installation

Officers of R. B. Hayes Post and Ladies' Circle of the G. A. R. Installed Last Night, and Banquet and Social Hour Enjoyed.

The joint installation of the R. B. Hayes Post and the Ladies' Circle of the G. A. R., the notable event of the year in these bodies of the G. A. R., passed off brilliantly Tuesday night at the G. A. R. hall.

There was the largest number of members and invited guests ever in attendance at the installation ceremonies.

The large hall, blazing with light, flags floating from the gallery and handsome large silk flags unfurled on the stage and draping the center altar, presented a cherry contrast to the steady drizzle outside.

The ceremonies were conducted with much impressiveness throughout the installation of the officers of the Ladies' Circle taking precedent.

Mrs. Virginia Hall, of Lima, department inspector of the Ladies' Circle, G. A. R., had been detailed to install the incoming officers, but word was received of her inability to be present, and Dr. E. C. Hamilton substituted as installing officer.

Mrs. Hugh Weir played the marches for the ceremonies.

The officers of the Circle installed were Mrs. Mary Millikan, president; Mrs. Fanny Robinson, senior vice-president; Miss Marie Heglar, Jr., vice-president; chaplain, Mrs. Lucy Pruden; treasurer, Mrs. Lida Dennis; secretary, Mrs. Lucy Ginn; conductress, Mrs. Lizzie Daugherty; assistant conductress, Mrs. Lida Hunt; guard, Mrs. Weisheimer; assistant guard, Mrs. Alice Card.

The installation of the officers of R. B. Hayes Post followed, with Mr. George F. Robinson a most dignified and commanding installing officer, and Capt. George C. Jenkins, mastering officer of the day.

Marching through the ceremonies with the military step that is the heritage of the soldier, the following officers were installed: Post Commander, Col. B. H. Millikan; senior vice, R. S. Quinn; junior vice, E. W. Weisheimer; officer of the day, R. H. Harrop; chaplain, John Near; quartermaster, Joe N. Willson; surgeon, John A. Paul; officer of the guard, H. E. Lydy; adjutant, W. H. Hughes; patriotic instructor, E. C. Hamilton; sergeant-major, H. L. Robinson; quartermaster sergeant, U. H. Parvin.

After the installation the installing officer presented the newly installed post commander to the post and in a few well chosen words Col. Millikan expressed his appreciation of the honor and voiced the thanks of the post to Mr. Robinson for his services in the installation.

The ceremonies were effectively concluded with the post salute.

The social hour which followed was an occasion of the utmost pleasure and the comrades of the post and the ladies of the Circle served an elaborate turkey banquet that rivaled the bountiful banquets of former installations. There was such an abundance of everything and so well cooked and served that it could not be excelled.

A picturesque corps of waiters assisting the ladies were the young girls of the Algonquin club, in their fantastic Indian suits and beads.

Farm Sells For $31,452

Monday afternoon Sheriff Sheets of Pickaway county, sold the Douglas Binns farm containing 212 acres and located in Perry township, near New Holland.

In the partition sale, Charles H. May, attorney for Lincoln Kirkpatrick purchased the farm for $148.05 per acre, or a total of over $31,452.

There were eleven bidders and the bidding was spirited, the farm starting at $100 per acre. The farm is one of the best in western Pickaway.

Some half dozen bootleggers were arrested in London last week, and fines aggregating more than $400 were collected from the offenders.

Part of the men had two counts against them and entered pleas of guilty to both counts. The Federal authorities have also taken a hand in the proceedings, and placed several men under arrest, charging them with violating the law by not paying license and selling in dry territory.

A number of bootleggers have been arrested in Hillsboro recently, and have drawn heavy fines aggregating several hundred dollars. Both towns, like Washington, are in dry territory.

PROPER TO PAINT.

Court Ordered Complaining Husband to Return to His Wife.

Wilkes-Barre, Pa.—Alderman John F. Donohue decided that George Schreider, of this city, was not justified in leaving his wife because she used face powder and, as Mr. Schreider asserted, "paints herself like an Indian."

"The art of facial decoration," said the Alderman, "is one of the most necessary for the preservation of the beauty of the female sex, and if I have anything to do with it, shall not become a lost art. It is the one thing that keeps a woman everlastingly young and a comfort to her husband, who grows old all too quickly through the business pressure of to-day."

"The rouge, the chamois and the powder puff are absolutely necessary essentials to the happiness of every woman, and your wife is not an exception."

He ordered Schreider to return to his wife.

PUJO TO ENGAGE SPECIALIST

Letter Will Examine Rockefeller's Throat and Report.

Washington, Jan. 8.—The house money trust committee, in executive session, made plans for dealing with two reluctant witnesses William Rockefeller and George G. Henry of the firm of Solomon & Company, bankers, New York city.

Chairman Pujo announced that the committee decided to procure the services of a competent specialist in throat diseases to examine Mr. Rockefeller and verify the certificates of ill health filed with the committee from Dr. Walter F. Chappelle, Mr. Rockefeller's personal physician, and Dr. Samuel W. Lamont. Dr. Chappelle said that to force Mr. Rockefeller to testify would "endanger his life."

In the case of Mr. Henry, the committee prepared forms to be submitted to the full committee, charging him with contempt. Mr. Henry refused on the stand to reveal the names of national banks and national bank officials allotted a share in the syndicate flotation of the California Petroleum company. The bank officers made a profit of $50,000 and the banks a like amount, Mr. Henry said, without putting up any money or even taking possession of the stock allotted to them.

NYE A WITNESS IN GRAFT PROBE

Franklin County Grand Jury Making Further Investigation.

Columbus, O., Jan. 8.—Former State Senator George B. Nye of Waverly, who confessed to Prosecuting Attorney Turner to taking bribes, is a witness today before the grand jury, which is making further investigation of graft in the general assembly two years ago.

Dr. A. C. Lowry, former representative from Ironton, who is under indictment charged with bribe-taking, is in Hot Springs. A subpoena was returned by the Lawrence county sheriff with the annotation, "Out of the state."

Owen Evans, former representative, who was the first to plead guilty to accepting graft and was fined $500, has been called. He probably will follow Dr. Nye in disclosing state-house corruption.

George K. Cetone of Dayton, former state senator, convicted of bribery and sentenced to three years in the penitentiary, was granted a further stay of execution of sentence by the court of appeals, which will hear his case on its merits Friday, Jan. 17.

Found Dead In Snowdrift.
St. Clairsville, O., Jan. 8.—John Pancost, 50, a well-to-do farmer, was found dead in a snowdrift along a road near his home at Belmont. It is thought death was due to heart failure, superinduced by overexertion in attempting to aid his horse through the drift.

operation. It was performed in March, 1909. After that Grimmell improved steadily.

One of the final acts of Governor White before he retired from office was to grant a pardon to Grimmell, and at the age of 34 he started life anew. The doctors announced that the abnormal bias in Grimmell's mental operations had been corrected. But apparently science erred, for Grimmell is now back in the toils.

DIED OF STARVATION

Fate of Majority of Members of First German Arctic Expedition.

Berlin, Jan. 8.—The committee of the projected German Arctic expedition which is to explore the Northwest passage has learned that the preliminary expedition, which is now at Spitzbergen, is short of food. The committee is preparing to send a supply. It is reported that a majority of members of the expedition have died of starvation. A dispatch from Christiania says that Ritschel, a member of the expedition, reached Adventure bay on Dec. 21, half dead from cold and hunger. He said the survivors were on the north coast of Spitzbergen and were only provided with supplies for a month. This is the first news of the expedition since the end of last August.

Beaten Up For Thief.
St. Marys, O., Jan. 8.—Charged with assault with intent to kill and with resisting an officer James Rupert was placed under $2,500 bond for an attack on Humane Officer L. M. Sikes when the latter was in the act of taking Rupert's team from a local hitching rack, acting on the theory that the horses had stood too long in the open. Sikes is severely wounded. Rupert is quoted as being ignorant of Sikes' identity and supposed his team was being stolen.

PIMPLY? WELL, DON'T BE!

People Notice It. Drive Them Off With Olive Tablets.

A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The pimples will vanish after you have taken the tablets a few nights.

Nothing ever cleansed the blood, the bowels and the liver like Olive Tablets.

Olive Tablets are the only successful substitute for calomel—they oil the bowels; there's never any sickness or pain after taking them.

Olive Tablets do all that calomel does and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating.

No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cursed with "dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition or pimply face.

Olive Tablets are made of pure vegetable compounds mixed with olive oil.

Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints, and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result.

Try them. Take one nightly for a week. Then look at yourself in the glass and see how you feel. 10c and 25c per box.
